

THE RICHMOND DISPATCH—SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 1895.

THE SITE REJECTED.

Stuart's Monument Will Not Be Erected
On the Triangular Lot.

THE LOCATION NOT SUITABLE.

Letter to be Sent to the Council
Declining the Tender and Express- ing Thanks Therefor—Officers of the Veteran Cavalry Association.

The monument to General J. E. B. Stuart will not be erected on the triangular lot at the intersection of Brook, Avenue, Adams, and Broad streets, which was purchased by the City Council at a cost of $10,000, and tendered to the Veteran Cavalry Association of the Army of Northern Virginia, as a site for the memorial to the dashing cavalry officer.

The Board of Directors of the Association met at the Regimental Armory last evening at 6 o'clock for the purpose of filling vacancies in the board caused by the deaths of Major W. J. Johnson, Judge B. W. Lucy, and Major A. G. Babcock. This business was disposed of ere the question of accepting or rejecting the site was discussed, and Major A. G. Venable, Mr. W. B. Palmer, and Mr. F. T. Sutton were unanimously elected to membership on the board.

A resolution was offered by Mr. J. E. Vaughan, providing for the election of a chairman of the board of directors from among the vice-presidents of the association, in the absence of the president, General Fitz Lee. This resolution was adopted, and Mr. T. W. Sudier was chosen chairman. On motion of Mr. E. A. Catlin Mr. Sudier was empowered to appoint a subcommittee to serve in his absence. Colonel John W. Gordon was chosen assistant secretary.

The question of the monument site was then taken up and informed was given by the chairman, all of whom opposed the acceptance of the site on the conditions imposed by the Council, which would obligate the association to erect the monument there or nowhere. Colonel Gordon, Mr. C. A. Taylor, and Mr. Catlin, were appointed a committee to draft a letter to the Council thanking that body for their offer, but declining the site because of the unavailability of its location.

The board decided to meet hereafter regularly on the fourth Tuesday in each month at the Regimental Armory.

It was stated in the Dispatch yesterday that the plans of Mr. Andrew Jackson for the erection of a hotel in the city were submitted to the sub-committee on arrangements for the accommodation of 600 persons. The report should have read:

Virginia: learning; religious toleration—all, everything, appeals in this one voice, from the ashes. I hope the fund will be a large one.

To this Mr. Valentine, treasurer of the Richmond League of Wheelmen this fund, replied: "Your letter enclosed a check for $100, and I thank you for your contribution. I am sorry to say that the strike is in keeping with the situation—our common ownership in this, Virginia's noblest free institution of learning, has presented for your patriotic friends to do all you can to get the press for publication, finding assured that it will, in a great measure, arouse our fellow-citizens to the knowledge that the cause of Virginia is the cause of its welfare."

TEACHERS ASKED TO HELP.

President W. R. Meredith, of the Richmond Chapter of Alumnae, is in receipt of the following letter from Superintendent William F. Fox, of the Richmond public schools:

Yours of last week, asking me to take some steps for raising a fund for rebuilding the university, was received, and a copy of a circular forbidden by a general regulation to take up any collection from the pupils of the school; but I enclose a copy of a circular I have addressed to our principals, to the effect that the press for publication, finding assured that it will, in a great measure, arouse our fellow-citizens to the knowledge that the cause of Virginia is the cause of its welfare.

The circular is as follows:

"On Sunday, October 22, the main building of the University of Virginia will be open to the public.

"The circle of our people, the fountain of higher education in the State, lies in ashes. Its work continues without intermission, but it greatly suffers from want of suitable facilities.

"The Board of Visitors have decided to rebuild as soon as the necessary funds can be secured. The art of evolution is to be used in the design needed.

"I have addressed to our principals, to the knowledge that the cause of Virginia is the cause of its welfare,

"The Governor will review the parade as it passes through the grounds to the Exchange and Main Streets. The Mayor will review the parade as it passes his residence, No. 827 west Grace street.

"Through the courtesy of the Mayor and City Engineer, the portion of Grace and Franklin streets over which the parade will pass will be scraped and rolled this morning, and all holes will be filled with gravel and broken granite, so as to be in good order for the parade.

"It is to-day that the wheelmen's parade will be postponed until next Saturday.

Nine boxes of torpedoes, which were designed to Hicks & Howard, were being loaded on their dray by two men of the driller's department, and the mouth of the box rather carelessly. As a result the torpedoes exploded with a terrible crash. Ross was buried from the dray to the ground, and Foster was thrown to the ground. He was carried into the office and the ambulance summoned, which responded at once, in the charge of Dr. T. H. Luxford, who found that Foster had been severely injured, and him then almost torn off. He found it necessary to take nine stitches in the hand.

IS DRIVING OUT DISEASE.

Dr. J. R. Baird Well Known
in American Missions.

Hundreds of Bottles of Paine's Celery Compound Prescribed by Him.

Has Found It a Blessing to the Afflicted Beyond any Other Remedy.

Dr. J. R. Baird is not only a missionary, but what is not so well known, he is a physician of large experience.

His published account of the work he has done in the State of Michigan has been read with interest, not only by those particularly concerned in missions, but by the public generally.

In Indiana, Pa., describes his own experience as follows:

"It was about six years ago when I first tried Paine's celery compound for nervous diseases and rheumatism. In the severe winter climate in the State of Michigan I was at our mission station there, and became a great sufferer. I used three bottles of Paine's celery compound, and was very greatly benefited thereby. I began to advise my patients who were sick with rheumatism, and in every case where I directed were strictly in accordance with the treatment was successful.

In very few years past hundreds of bottles have been used directly through my advice. Paine's celery compound is far better than any other remedy, and leaves no bad effects in the system. Its medicinal healing qualities make it a boon of life and a blessing to the afflicted beyond any preparation within my reach."

The great failing often in the amount of rheumatism, neuralgia, and nervous weakness that physicians have everywhere noted comes from the widespread knowledge that there is no need of suffering any longer from these common diseases. It is now everywhere known how correctly Professor Edward A. Phelps, M. D., of Dartmouth College, understood the needs of suffering men and women when he prepared the formula for Paine's celery compound.

His health was broken by the severe winter climate in Michigan some time ago, and he seemed likely to be obliged to give up his work. But he resorted to the use of that easily-absorbed remedy, Paine's celery compound, and was himself again, energetic and active, as ever, within a few weeks.

The secret of his undoubted war in which Paine's celery compound tortures the body against nervous exhaustion and excites its shattered parts, has been fully explained by physicians, the best of whom testify always to this great remedy where debility is to be overcome. It does its work thoroughly and completely. Let every nervous, sickly and every man and woman who feels down and tired beyond the power of a night's sleep, try Paine's celery compound.
